

Community of Practice (CoP) for Asia online event

Sharing challenges and lessons learned

Background

The project “Innovation Regions for a Just Energy Transition” (IKI-JET) aims at supporting key stakeholders of coal regions to plan for and implement regional just energy transition pathways away from coal and towards a low-carbon energy system, consistent with the Paris Agreement and the ILO Just Transition Guidelines.

In the framework of the IKI-JET project, the ILO, in collaboration with a consortium of international partners, is leading efforts to establish a Community of Practice (CoP) in Asia, focused on policymakers and other stakeholders involved in just energy transition processes. The CoP is designed to facilitate peer-to-peer knowledge exchange, promote collaborative approaches to common challenges, and foster the development of shared resources and practices.

After the consultation workshop held on 18 December 2024, this is the second online meeting of the CoP.

Objectives

This online meeting aims to provide participants with practical knowledge that will be shared via lessons learned from different regions that have implemented Just Energy Transition initiatives, namely related to coal phase out.

The particularity of this event is the adoption of an innovative approach that goes beyond sharing best practices only. By focusing on challenges and projects that didn't go as initially planned, we can extract lessons learned and learn new strategies about adaptation and resilience.

Language

This event will take place in English. It is preferable that participants have a working knowledge that allows them to partake in the consultation workshop.
